

Wind Energy and Development Dialogue 2009

"Effect of the International Climate Regime on the Expansion of Wind Energy Utilisation in Developing Countries and Emerging Economies"

Spreespeicher, Stralauer Allee 2a, 10245 Berlin, Germany

10 November 2009

Moderator: Hanne May
editor-in-chief, neue energie (new energy)

09:00	Registration
09:30	Welcome and Introduction Stefan Opitz German Technical Cooperation (GTZ) Johannes Schiel German Engineering Federation (VDMA Power Systems) Claudia Grotz German WindEnergy Association (BWE)
Session I: Instruments of the International Climate Regime and Dissemination of Renewable Energies in Developing Countries and Emerging Economies – an Overview
09:45	Introduction by the Moderator, Presentation of Central Issues
09:50	Instruments of the International Climate Regime in Practice: Analysis and Prospects Dr. Axel Michaelowa Senior Founding Partner, Perspectives GmbH
10:20	Effect of the International Climate Regime on the Expansion of Wind Energy Utilisation in Developing Countries and Emerging Economies – a Status Analysis Remi Gruet Regulatory Affairs Advisor – Climate Change & Environment, European Wind Energy Association (EWEA)
10:45	Summary and Discussion of Session I
11:15	Coffee/tea break

Session II:
The German Policy Perspective – Importance of Climate-Regime Instruments for the Promotion of Renewable Energies in Developing Countries and Emerging Economies
11:30	Introduction by the Moderator, Presentation of Central Issues
11:35	The Instruments of the Climate Regime Viewed from the Perspective of Development Policy Hein Winnubst German Federal Ministry for Economic Cooperation and Development (BMZ)
12:00	The MEF*-Technology Action Plan and Possible Impact on the Development of Wind Energy * Major Economies Forum (MEF) André Poschmann German Federal Ministry for the Environment, Nature Conservation and Reactor Safety (BMU)
12:25	Summary and Discussion of Session II
12:45	Lunch
Session III:
The Perspective of Developing Countries and Emerging Economies – Importance of the Instruments of the International Climate Regime for the Promotion of Renewable Energies, in Particular of Wind Energy
13:45	Introduction by the Moderator, Presentation of Central Issues
13:50	What is Expected of the International Climate Regime? Perspectives of Developing Countries and Emerging Economies Holger Liptow German Technical Cooperation (GTZ)
14:10	Effects of Emissions Trading on the Development of Renewable Energies – The Chinese Experience Karla Lieberg Chief Representative, Climate Focus, China
14:30	Effects of Emissions Trading on the Development of Renewable Energies – The South African Experience Mark Tanton Deputy Chairperson, South African Wind Energy Association (SAWEA) Managing Director, Red Cap Investments
14:50	Summary and Discussion of Session III
15:10	Coffee/tea break

Session IV:
The German-Industrial Perspective – Contribution of Emissions Trading to the Expansion of Wind Energy Utilisation in Developing Countries and Emerging Economies and its Benefits for the German Wind Energy Industry
15:25	Introduction by the Moderator, Presentation of Central Issues
15:30	CDM as a Chance for the Wind Industry in Developing Countries - Experiences with the Validation and Verification of Climate Protection Projects Stephan Hild TÜV-SÜD Industrie Service GmbH
16:00	A Manufacturer´s Experience with CDM in Developing Countries and Emerging Economies Graham Bocking Nordex Energy GmbH
16:30	Effects of Emissions Trading on Investment Decisions by Power Utilities in Developing Countries and Emerging Economies Ludwig Kons Head of Climate Protection Business Unit, RWE Power AG
17:00	Contribution by the Instruments of the International Climate Regime Toward the Financing of Wind Projects Florian Sekinger Kreditanstalt für Wiederaufbau (KfW)
17:30	Summary and Discussion of Session IV
17:50	Closing Discussion
18:00	End of Conference

The conference languages will be German and English.